Considering a career in Arboriculture?

Arboriculture is the practice of planting, maintaining, and managing trees in our environment. As an arborist, you will work with trees to ensure they remain healthy, safe, and properly managed. This includes tasks such as tree planting, pruning, health assessments, and tree removal when necessary.

Qualified arborists are in high demand across Australia and internationally, with the profession consistently listed on the Occupational Shortage List. Employment opportunities exist with local councils, government agencies, private arboriculture companies, as well as construction and landscaping firms.

Kickstart your career in this rewarding industry with our Basic Tree Worker Skill Set, or contact our team to explore further career pathways and opportunities in arboriculture.

AHCSS00103 Basic Tree Worker Skill Set

This skill set provides the basic skills and knowledge required to operate chainsaws to cut and trim felled trees, remove tree materials and control traffic in support of a ground based arboricultural work team.

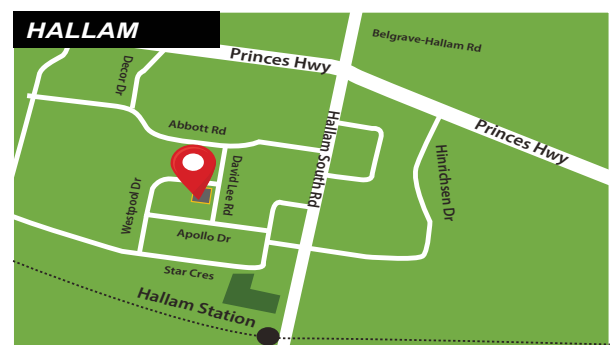

This course has been designed to provide hands-on practical training specifically for individuals wanting to enter the arboriculture industry. These units of competency provide pathways into the Certificate II in Arboriculture and Certificate III in Arboriculture.
